

And ... one more fond look at Our Most Recent Production:

Neil Simon's

The Prisoner of Second Avenue

Mel Edison finds himself jobless at age 47 and on the verge of a nervous breakdown. He and his wife Edna confront the issues surrounding a crushing economic blow that sends Edna into the workforce and Mel onto the couch to watch talk shows. A burglary, a garbage strike, hostile neighbors, and well-intentioned but clueless attempts by Mel's siblings to help them through tough economic times add to the chaos in a Tony award-winning comedy written in 1971 that strikes a familiar chord today.

---

The Cast:

Mel

Edna

Harry

Pearl

Pauline

Jessie

Travis Walsh

Micki Bare

Philip Shore

Donna Barbre Hunter

Trudy Davis

Peggy George Kilburn

The Artistic/Production Staff:

Director

Stage Manager

Props Mistress

Stage Crew (cleverly doubling as Burglars)

Jim Langer

Jordan Willis

Michele Dawes

Eve Fenberg, Anna Way

Mel and Edna begin their arduous journey. Photo by Paul Church, Courier Tribune.

The full dysfunctional family in rehearsal. Photo by Paul Church, Courier Tribune.

Pearl, Pauline, Jessie squabble over who remembers Mel the best. Photo by Paul Church, Courier Tribune.

Harry is left to puzzle over why stale cookies were unceremoniously shoved at him. Photo by Paul Church, Courier Tribune.